dining delights: downhome to delectable

Southern Vermont is home to a wide variety of dining options. Whether the choice is fine dining, a family restaurant, a catered event, or wine and cheese with a scenic view, the region offers an endless array of options.

The Deerfield Valley News offers a magazine geared directly toward visiting and local food lovers. It's the perfect opportunity to showcase your menu, services, or food products to a wide variety of palates, tastes, interests, and budgets.

Locals and visitors combined annually spend over $56 million on meals and alcohol in Bennington County, and over $73 million in Windham County. That's a market potential of almost $130 million. We'll help you reach that market.

We'll also help you reach the visitors where they stay and where they play, in lodging facilities, restaurants, chambers of commerce, and shops. Our dedicated distribution program will insure your message is seen. Surveys by the State of Vermont show that restaurant, bar and grocery expenditures account for over 30% of the money spent by visitors during their stay here. We'll help your business capture more of that revenue.

Don't miss out on this terrific standalone product.
